

Light is absorbed with light-absorbing molecules called pigments.

Plants principal pigment is called chlorophyll.

There are two main types:

- chlorophyll a
- chlorophyll b

Absorption of light is also absorption of energy.

This energy is transferred to e- to make photosynthesis work.

