Point Blue's STRAW Program (Students and Teacher Restoring A Watershed)

Please join us, as Alba Estrada, Josh Nuzzo, and Jessie Ditmore, from local PointBlue discuss their innovative STRAW program. We welcome you to learn more about different conservation careers through the Point Blue's STRAW program! Point Blue Conservation Science is non-profit organization with over 160 scientists that aims to develop nature-based solutions to climate change, habitat loss, and other environmental threats to benefit wildlife and people. For nearly 30 years the STRAW program has worked with grade school students throughout the San Francisco Bay Area to restore riparian and wetland ecosystem through community-powered efforts. For Piner High students, this event counts toward your STEM Level 1 Certificate. Join us, Thursday January 14th at 7pm on ZOOM!
